

Champs

'Hound' do you do? Haha, bad hound-dad joke.

My name is Champs and I am looking for a new home. In human years, I am between 3 and 4. However, if you look deep into my droopy eyes you will see that I am much wiser than my years suggest.

Fun fact about me? I'm not as noisy as most people think! Sure, I sound the alarm when someone, like a bear or cougar, is close by. But for the most part, I used to just sit in the yard or on the deck and chill with my female friend Jesse. I do also enjoy a saunter down the road but if I catch a whiff of someone I may put on the brakes while my nose sorts out all the clues blowing in the wind. After dinner, I retire to my room inside and cuddle up for a full night's rest.

Jesse, unfortunately, left me and I am very sad about that. Ever since she left I have been looking for her everywhere and also calling her but it is getting better now and my heart is healing.

I have been from a place where a lot of dogs roam freely and will stand my ground if another dog is rude but otherwise I am pretty chill. I came from a house with lots of children but the folks here at CARE have not tested me with children. I can be very playful if a treat is involved - I just love them! I also enjoy being gently petted. As this is something very new to me I had to get used to the affection but now I will head-bump you to actually get a cuddle.

I am working on my leash manners as never anybody put one on before I came to CARE. But I am paying more and more attention to the kind, two-legged beings walking with me and I heard them say that I am making a lot of progress.

I am looking for kind humans who can offer me their hearts and lots of exercise and cuddles. If you think you are the right human for me get in touch with CARE and let them know. Or fill out their adoption application here: <https://www.carenetwork.ca/adopt-application>

Thank you for reading my story!
